

14 Years of Revolution

The connect we have in between, makes us feel responsible and perceptive towards all of you and for this very legitimate cause, today we are talking to you through this ‘Philosophical Knock’

We have drafted this note, specially to communicate to our stakeholders. Our Stakeholders are not only Our Students, Their Parents’, Their Ex- Teachers, but this Society in total, because we whittle the young genre of this country, which ultimately will be the responsible citizens tomorrow and that is what makes us more responsible towards all of you.

Come, let me take you through a swivel, as back as 14 years, when we transpired. Our occurrence was not just another idea of opening up an institution, our need was felt, we were needed, in the then staled out education system; where admission to a college meant only mugging up the syllabus and writing five pre-known questions. A makeover was needed, a Renaissance was needed. The occurrence was sound. Education makes a man; but certainly education is not an industry. Hence the pious initiation of an education institute by an Educationist certainly makes it meaningful. We are therefore.

It was obvious that the then education system didn’t have much to offer. The world was changing at a faster pace than the syllabus in the diaries. A few well soaked educationists conceived the idea of bringing renaissance in the field of education and there we emerged. These educationists were little revolutionary as well. Reading the pulse of time, they introduced the contemporary courses along with the routine university syllabus.

We introduced modules on Banking, Insurance, Language Development, Personality Development, Tally, and Elementary SAP, along with Retail and Mall Management modules, which were need of the hour, since retail was emerging, and we too, alongwith.

We were clear, very clear that academics and sheer academics is not gonna bring out everything from a student. The psychological studies also share of multiple intellects, and academics is just one of them. We have had been doing injustice with generations, for over ages, considering percentages as sole criteria of being intelligent. A renaissance was needed here as well.

Through tiny efforts of ours, of nurturing and establishing other intellects in parallel to the running academics, we could build up different camps, each catering to one different genre, like the Michael Angelo Club for Painting, The George Rodger Club for Photography etc. We have named them the Clubs. Currently there are eleven clubs at Renaissance that provide the students platform and a shimmering chance to exercise their kind of passion, hobby, and intellect.

Then there lied one more untouched denomination of emotional intelligence. It seems strange that many-a-times even parents are unable to establish an EQ connect with their wards. An imbalanced grooming cuts off some part of the ward’s personality. The instinct of reluctance, non-acceptance never allows the child to live a complete life. Through our philanthropic conduit Muskaan, we afaced our students to orphanages, Old Houses, and Spastic Societies, which made them see the other deprived side of life. It made them more accepting, more soaking and more human.

The journey of 10 years is so small to create a history, but yes, we are putting it on records; we could not create a golden history yet; we are yet to.

When I was a school going kid, one thought inspired me and was always on my mind. The golden thought was, "In coming years, big will not beat small, rather fast will beat the slow".

When we look back in the history, we see that it took Telephone, 75 years to reach to 50 million users, whereas Radio took 38 years to reach 50 million users, T.V. took 13 years to reach 50 million users, Internet took 4 years to reach 50 million users, Facebook took 3.5 years to reach 50 million users, and Angry Bird took 35 days to reach the same strength of users.

So if you want to combat & conquer the world, start now! Think and act, learn & relearn, improve and develop, innovate & implement!

Best wishes

The Mentors

A Teacher is larger than the word itself. The most progressive scope of Aura that is getting wider and with passage of time more words and definitions are being added to the word "Teacher". A Teacher is a gardener who creates, nurture, builds, inculcates, develops his / her students like their own wards, but in a highly selfless manner.

Teachers play important role in our life to become successful in career and business. A good teacher helps us to become good human being in the society and good citizen of the country. Teachers know that students are the future of any nation.

Teachers build a society with good human being.

"To me, the sole hope of human salvation lies in teaching." -George Bernard Shaw

Teachers help us to become a good human being. Good human being can contribute to the development of society. A developed society with good people helps others to become successful and happy.

The ideology and morals help people to learn how to handle relationships in life. Teachers help us and show how to interact with different personalities. These things really matter later in the life of students. This is why teachers are an important pillar of society.

Club Mozart: For Young Musicians

The soothe of a Mother's hand, the joy of Father's lap;
The instincts so kiddish, the flavor so hap;
The sonata in rhythm, a melody or a hymn;
For music is for everyone, for music is for everyone

Music has endless powers, power to sooth a soul hurt, sound to heal the wound, joy to see a doy. The keys in rig just pull you to take a jig, a jig in the sea of tranquility, passion, excitement, fervor, sometimes tears, that drain your fears. Yes this magical is the world of music. This transformation piece lets us retransform and Be Human Symphonized on the purest form of Music; the Mozart club of Renaissance is an epiphany to the efforts, capabilities and dreams of the budding musicians of the institute. The music club of Renaissance, the Mozart club provides the platform to its students, who are related to music and have the guts to get the souls drowned into the cadence of music, with their voice and device.

The club has staged the students of Renaissance at several occasions and events. We are proud to share the existence of our College Band 'Rooh'. Renaissance and Rooh are of the same age.

House Culture

House culture, the four houses at Renaissance College, Prithvi, Aakash, Jal and Vaayu. All this seems to be school like, but this system works. It brings in more discipline amongst the students. It fosters leadership in them. Teachers working with students, students working amongst, the jealousy, the competition in between, and learning the skill of time management; everything is a flourishing denomination. It brings growth to intellect, it provokes their thoughts.

Our ideology on house culture is to part the students in a way, they get united and synchronized more. So that they get to have the real life learning.

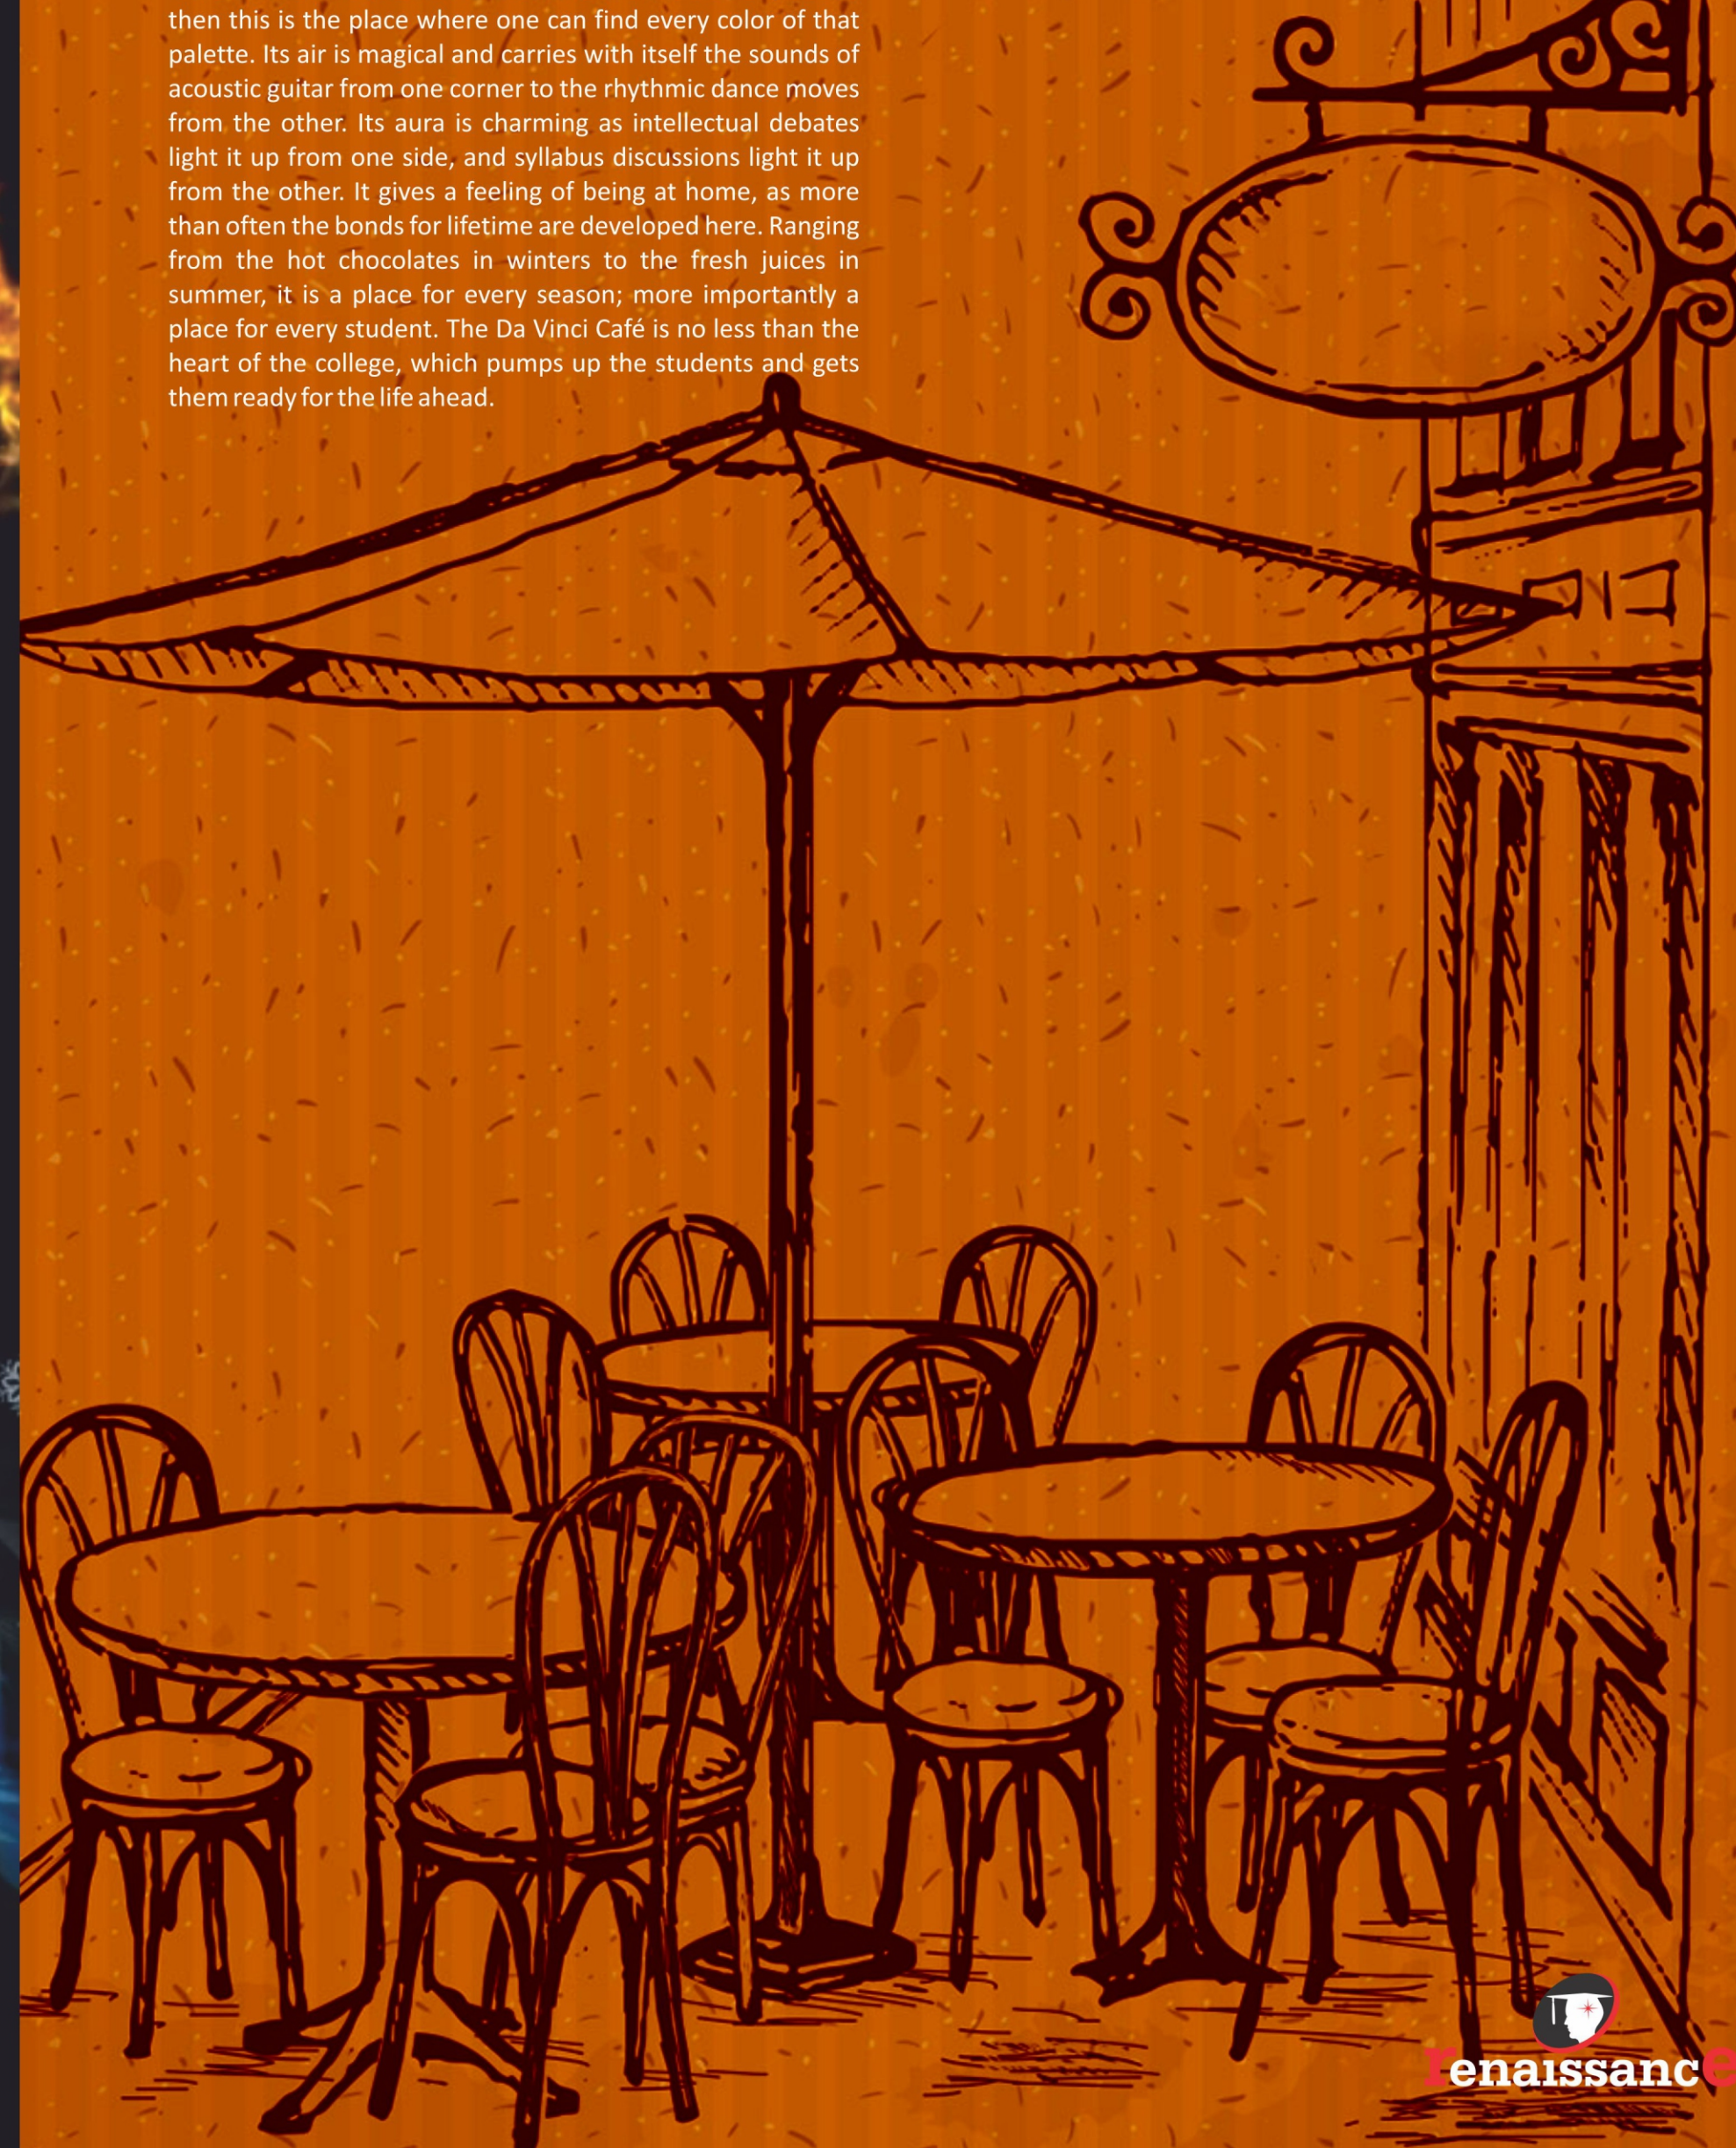

The houses at Renaissance whenever clash amongst, produce more energy and creativity.

Da Vinci Café

Someone rightly said that during your college life you might not remember the time you spent in the classroom, but you will always remember the time you spent in the cafeteria. The Da Vinci Café of Renaissance is not just a place meant to satiate student's hunger. It is a place of budding friendships and bonds, a place of steaming new creative ideas and raw talent. It is a place where everyone finds room for themselves irrespective of their areas of interest. And undoubtedly, it is no less than a classroom, as it teaches the students the lessons of life.

If the talents and passions of students are like a color palette, then this is the place where one can find every color of that palette. Its air is magical and carries with itself the sounds of acoustic guitar from one corner to the rhythmic dance moves from the other. Its aura is charming as intellectual debates light it up from one side, and syllabus discussions light it up from the other. It gives a feeling of being at home, as more than often the bonds for lifetime are developed here. Ranging from the hot chocolates in winters to the fresh juices in summer, it is a place for every season; more importantly a place for every student. The Da Vinci Café is no less than the heart of the college, which pumps up the students and gets them ready for the life ahead.

Celebrities @ Renaissance

With an approach to bring about extensive dynamism & wisdom, interactions of renowned personalities with students are organised at Renaissance. These interactions impart a unique influence of motivation to the youth.

At Renaissance it is our constant endeavour to provide the best possible exposure to our students. In order to achieve it, we keep inviting achievers from various walks of life like sports, entertainment, business, education etc. to our campus. They interact with our students and leave behind a life changing experience and learning for students to absorb. Let's have a look at a few of many such celebrated personalities who visited our campus:

Journey Till Now

Our journey is endless, like the journey of education; hence this note.

This book has merely narrated our moves upto now, of what all we did, how we executed, how we, our students and their parents walked together for 10 years.

How through our faith in parallel education, we could instill in our students, humanity, fervour and decision making abilities. We could teach them to believe and make their passion, their profession.

Credulously the involvement of their parents and our mutual coordination played a thick role.

But the walk is not over, it is only upto now. The walk has to continue, because the time span of ten years is a miniscule. We could only establish our first base camp, and the giant Himalayas is standing ahead. But we shall conquer the one; we are confident of paving our way though and to Himalayas.

The walk will continue because we are still at a very tender age, and to create history eras are needed. And we shall create one, we shall mark an era in our name.
